ABOUT REACHING OUT

In the year 2000, a group of physically impaired Vietnamese people, motivated to create meaningful and independent lives for themselves, began Reaching Out as a simple craft shop selling high quality, handmade homeware and jewellery.

Reaching Out craft shop, operating according to Fair Trade principles, employs 65 physically impaired artisans and works closely with 30 others all around Vietnam.

This teahouse was created in 2012 to offer an authentic and unique Vietnamese hospitality experience, centered around the appreciation of tea in silence. Please whisper so that all of our guests can enjoy the tranquility.
